

Network of Executive Women presents
NEW Executive Leaders Forum 2012

Creating—and living—your legacy

July 31-August 2 | Terranea Resort | Rancho Palos Verdes, CA

Mark your calendar for the NEW Executive Leaders Forum 2012 outside Los Angeles. It's more than a meeting of senior-level industry executives — it's a moving adventure designed to help you create your personal and professional legacy and to start living that legacy today.

- You'll be inspired by women who have escaped the ordinary to accomplish the extraordinary.

- Discuss how you can step up and develop other women leaders to create a living legacy for yourself.

- Break through your daily demands to make a lasting mark on your organization.

- And leave with a design for living that accomplishes your most cherished life goals.

Next summer, take a break from leading your team to focus on becoming a better leader. At the NEW Executive Leaders Forum 2012, you'll find the strength and purpose to create a legacy you can live every day.
